

The Mist House is an interactive architectural installation designed for playful exploration in the historic Talad Noi area of Bangkok. Featuring a vibrant spiral tunnel with pink, green, and purple hues, it incorporates mist-generating orange rings that envelop visitors in a cooling, cloud-like atmosphere. With climbing nets and spaces for crawling, The Mist House offers children and adults a dynamic space to experience mist and interact with the environment. Inspired by a water gun's function, the structure creates new scenes with transparent mist and cooling the site
