

Portal of Expression

An artist's residential project that integrates creativity into the architectural fabric by allowing residents to personalize the container facades of their units. Each artist transforms their exterior into a canvas, creating a dynamic, ever-changing display of artwork visible to visitors of the gallery below. These facades will evolve as artists rotate in and out, making the building a living showcase of diverse artistic expressions.

